Grim Reaper Invades Several Homes

THREE WELL KNOWN COUNTY RESIDENTS PASS AWAY

Crawford county has had more than its share of deaths this week with the passing of three prominent residents and 2 children. James Reynolds Sr., was taken with a stroke of paralysis while at his work at the Grayling Box Company early Monday afternoon and passed away that same evening. Henry Stephan Sr., ill for several weeks and a patient at Mercy Hospital, passed away Monday night. Mrs. Lowell Fox of Maple Forest died from the infirmities of old age at her home in Maple Forest Monday. Little Walter Wilson, two-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson was unable to overcome a siege of pneumonia and died at Mercy Hospital Tuesday evening. And Chester James, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lozon passed away at their home this morning.

The community regrets the passing of these citizens who have been loyal standbys to their town and county and helped in its progress. and the Avalanche joins in extending sincere sympathy to the members of the bereaved families. Also to those parents who are mourning the loss of their children.

Henry Stephan Sr.

Henry Stephan Sr., a resident of the down river settlement since he was 11 years old, and owner of one of the many fine resorts on the river, passed away at Mercy Hospital at 11:00 o'clock Monday night. Mr. Stephan had been ill for about five weeks from a complication of diseases that had effected his heart. Three weeks ago he was removed from his home to Mercy Hospital, but he gradually grew weaker until the end came. Mr. Stephan appeared to be such a strong looking man that it seemed hardly possible that he could be in ill health.

Mr. Stephan was an expert hunting and fishing guide and a lover of the beautiful AuSable on which banks most of his life was spent. Last Spring he wrote an essay that won second place in a contest, in which he related in a most interesting manner his life on this famous stream. How in his boyhood he played in its waters and his later experiences. He had a wide acquaintance among sportsmen coming to this section to fish and hunt. For the past ten years he had also been caretaker of the property on the river owned by E. J. Marshall of Toledo, by whom he was regarded very highly. Mr. Stephan's host of friends in Grayling are grieved to learn of his demise.

The deceased was born in Rouen, France, June 2, 1870 and with his parents Peter W. and Helen M. Stephan came directly to Grayling in August, 1881. They settled on the river, clearing the land and building their home in the wilderness. In 1896 he was united in marriage to Annette Cook and coincidentally his brother John wooed her sister Cynthia and they were also married the same day at a double wedding held in Grayling. To the union three daughters and four sons were born, all of whom together with the widow survive. They are Henrietta, now Mrs. Harold Skingsley, Flora, Mrs. George Skingsley, Myrtle, Mrs. Warren Valand, and Theodore, Herbert, Henry Jr. and Alva, all of whom reside in Grayling, except Mrs. Valand whose home is in Kalkaska. Also one sister and two brothers survive. Mrs. Reuben S. Sabott, George and Dan Stephan of Grayling, and there are 13 grandchildren.

The funeral is being held this afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at Michelson Memorial church at which Rev. H. J. Salmon will officiate. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Warren Valand of Kalkaska, Mrs. E. J. Marshall of Toledo is expected to be present at the funeral. Interment will be in Grayling cemetery.

James Reynolds Sr.

very much of a snook to his family and friends was the passing of James Reynolds Sr. at his home Monday evening. Early in the afternoon he suffered a paralytic stroke while at his work at the Grayling Box Company and was removed to his home where he passed quietly away at about 7:30 o'clock. He complained of a headache after returning to work after the noonday meal, but seemed to be in his usual good health, when he was stricken.

The funeral is being held this afternoon at 3:00 o'clock with services at the family home, Rev. H. J. Salmon of Michelson Memorial church officiating. Interment will be in Elmwood cemetery.

James Reynolds was born in Crow Lake, Canada, July 3, 1862 and he grew to manhood there. He was united in marriage to Mary Jane Nolan at Perth, Canada, on October 14, 1884. A few years later Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds came to Michigan, which was in 1889 and settled first in Augres and they resided between there and Twining for 19 years. They also had resided in Frederic for five years and in the Upper Peninsula at Lake Gogebic before coming to Grayling in 1920. Mr. Reynolds had always followed the lumber business as millwright, and had been employed by the Grayling Box Company for several years. His jovial manner won for him hosts of friends among his fellow workmen and others. He took part in civic affairs and enjoyed fishing and hunting very much. He will be greatly missed by his family and friends.

Mr. Reynolds was the father of eleven children, one son Howard passing away during one of the flu epidemics. Also a foster child Henry Davis, who now resides in Jackson was brought up in the Reynolds home. Others surviving besides the widow are five sons and five daughters, Owen Reynolds, Seattle, Wash., Claude Reynolds, Muskegon Heights, Mrs. Harry Raino, Detroit, Mrs. Guy Reid, Twining, Mrs. Jess Green, Roscommon, Mrs. Liland Smock, Roscommon, James Jr., Harry, and Miss Marian, all of Grayling. And there are 18 grandchildren.

Mrs. Lowell Fox

Mrs. Priscilla Fox, widow of the late Lowell Fox, of Maple Forest, passed away at her home Monday of the infirmities of old age. Mrs. Fox, who was born in Canada, came to Maple Forest nine years ago to make her home.

Funeral services were held for her Tuesday.

Walter Wilson

Walter Wilson, two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson, passed away at Mercy Hospital Tuesday evening about nine o'clock. The little boy had been ill for several weeks with pneumonia. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon with services at St. Mary's church at 2:00 o'clock.

Fathers and Sons Banquet Together

HAZEN CUYLER GIVES MAIN ADDRESS

About 100 fathers and sons met in banquet at Michelson Memorial church banquet room Monday evening to enjoy a few hours together. The affair was sponsored by the Ladies Aid society of Michelson Memorial church and the banquet was provided by them also.

At 6:30 the assemblage marched from the church parlor to the banquet room in the basement, Grayling high school orchestra playing a march.

The tables were nicely spread and looked pretty with their white coverings and vases of colored carnations and other flowers. Washington Birthday hatchets were strewn upon the white table covers. The room was decorated with American flags and behind the speakers table, amidst flag streamers, was a fine large picture of George Washington.

The menu consisted of tomato juice, a delicious vegetable salad, Swiss steak, mashed potatoes and carrots, pickles, rolls, coffee and cherry pie. All very appetizing and nicely served.

The high school orchestra under direction of Miss Shirley McNeven played several numbers during the banquet, which were very much enjoyed.

Invocation was offered by Rev. Fr. J. L. Culligan. Dr. C. K. Keyport acted as master of ceremonies. In his opening remarks he said that the associations of fathers and sons is one of the oldest fetes known to man. The father is usually the idol of his son and the son is soul of his father.

Four young men from CCC Camp No. 672, (Camp Higgins), sang a couple of numbers to open the program, and also later on during the evening. They were Orville McIntosh, Al. Lorentz, Raymond McGee and Duke Goldmaere.

Bob Welsh, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Welsh, in behalf of the sons present, thanked the dads for bringing them to the banquet.

Postmaster M. A. Bates talked for the dads and told of some of his experiences while a boy. Both Bob and Mr. Bates left impressions of sincere appreciation of the ties of fathers and sons.

Howard Schmidt sang most beautifully a baritone solo entitled "Father—The Word that means worlds to me."

Hazen (Kiki) Cuyler, of Harrisville, star outfielder for the Chicago Cubs, was the principal speaker. For the past few years his services as speaker have been quite in demand in Northern Michigan cities.

He tells his story in a modest and pleasing manner, and any references to his own success are made without the least appearance of boasting or egotism, and he holds his audience with intense interest. The youngsters and oldsters alike seemed fascinated by his stories and tales of some of his experiences in sandlot and big league baseball. He said that he started his baseball career on the sandlots and that he is always glad to return to them. "I like my old associations," he said.

Mr. Cuyler told a number of amusing stories and kept the audience in good humor thruout his talk. He related many sandlot and big league experiences and brought some of the stars of baseballdom intimately into his word picture. He has played for 11 years in major baseball, 4 of which were with the Pittsburgh Pirates and seven years with the Chicago Cubs. He hoped to continue in baseball for many more years and could only hope to do so by taking the best of care of himself physically and by clean living. He admonished the younger generation that the climb to stardom could only come by hard work and clean habits. He neglected to tell the boys that he neither drinks intoxicating liquor nor smokes.

He said some nice things for

Surviving the child are his parents, one brother and two sisters.

Chester James Lozon

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lozon are sorry to learn of the passing of their infant son, Chester James, five months old, at their home this morning. The babe had been frail since its birth and contracted a bad cold, which resulted in its death. Funeral services will be held at St. Mary's church Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

Citizens Caucus Made Nominations

The village caucus held Tuesday night was void of surprises and the present officers were duly re-nominated.

The officers of the caucus were O. P. Schumann, chairman, E. L. Sparkes, Clerk, and Fred Welsh, M. A. Bates and Dick Lovely, tellers. The officers were duly sworn in by Justice Phillip Zalsman.

Only 35 votes were cast for the office of village president, of which Dr. C. G. Clippert received 34. E. L. Sparkes had a similar majority for the office of clerk.

It required considerable balloting to nominate a candidate for the office of treasurer. Paul Ziebell, the present incumbent, was disqualified and could not be a candidate. For several ballots it was a neck and neck race between Carl Sorenson, Frank Barnett and Herb Gothro. Mr. Sorenson withdrew and in the sixth ballot Mr. Gothro received the required majority.

Trustees Roy O. Milnes, Al. Roberts and A. S. Burrows carried all but one vote in the balloting and Nick Schjatz took ten from the ballot that nominated Merle F. Nellist, who is filling the vacancy of the late Thomas Cassidy.

George Olson declined to be a candidate for assessor to succeed

Mickey Cochran, the new manager of the Detroit Tigers. Also for "Goose" Goslin, newly acquired player with the Tigers from the Washington Senators. They, he said, should aid the Tigers a lot this coming season.

He stated that during one of his training periods in California their team visited one of the state reform schools for boys, where he learned that 90% of the boys there had never gone fishing nor hunting with their dads.

The fathers were admonished not to be too critical of their boys, and to bear in mind that boys do and think largely as their fathers do. He related how his own father had made him believe in himself. He suggested that some young boys present pick out some good man as their ideal and to study his habits and principles.

Being a good loser is good sportsmanship and also a good lesson to study on how not to lose again. Good losers are all right but one must keep a fighting spirit in order to win and get somewhere.

If I can be half the man my boy thinks I am, I am sure to be a success. Mr. Cuyler plans to leave his home at Harrisville February 27th for Chicago, where he will join other members of the Chicago Cubs who will leave March 1 for Catalina Island for their spring training.

Everyone feels that it was a grand gathering of fathers and sons of Grayling and one that will be remembered a long while. The meeting was dismissed with benediction by Rev. Hans Juhl of Grayling Lutheran church.

Citizens Caucus Made Nominations

The township committee elected is composed of O. P. Schumann, Dr. C. R. Keyport and T. P. Peterson.

Trustee Al. Roberts suggested that this caucus complete the election of the candidates named, inasmuch as there was but one ticket in the field, by declaring their election at that time. It was a new idea to most of those present altho it was claimed that that was the practice in many villages. Therefore a motion was made by Fred R. Welsh and seconded by Trustee Jesse Schoonover that the election in the usual manner be waived and that the nominees named by this caucus be and are hereby declared duly elected. This with the provision that the Village council secure legal opinion upon the matter so as to insure the legality of the election. And in case this should be found to be not valid, that the nominees take the status as tho the motion had not been passed. The motion was passed by unanimous vote.

Mayor Clippert gave a very enlightening talk on the hopes and plans of the council members, and a resume of the plans already under operation. The matter of the new waterworks under operation of the PWA was still hanging fire and uncertain. He called attention to the fact that the franchise for the Michigan Public Service Co. would expire in March, 1935 and that we should be prepared to make more favorable arrangements for future electric service.

MRS. JAMES THOMPSON PASSED AWAY

(By Kate B. Carter)

Mrs. Margaret Thompson, wife of James B. Thompson, who passed away at her home in St. Helen last Wednesday following a paralytic stroke late that afternoon, was born in Vanderbilt, Jan. 31, 1890. She was Miss Margaret Cherwinski and was united in marriage to James D. Thompson Sept. 1, 1919. They moved to St. Helen shortly after and in 1922 opened a general store in that place, which they have operated since.

The deceased is survived by her husband, James D. Thompson, her parents Mike and Mary Cherwinski of Vanderbilt; six brothers, of whom Carl, Stanley, Don and Raymond are at home in Vanderbilt, David, St. Helen and Martin, Detroit. Seven sisters, of whom Sarah and Helen are at home, Mrs. John Procknow, Mrs. Otto Schultz, Mrs. Burger Alg and Mrs. Bert Pall, all of Lansing, and Mrs. Ernest Huffman, Detroit. Also two step-sons, Wayne at Drayton Plains and Grant, at Grayling.

Funeral services were held at the home in St. Helen Sunday afternoon.

The horse was afraid of the automobile when the pedestrians laughed at it. That shows who had the horse sense.

Dist. Basket Ball Tournney Mar. 1, 2, 3

Tournament time is here at last. The three big days that everyone has been looking forward to is only a week away. The competing teams will draw their opponents Saturday, Feb. 24, and the first games will be played Thursday, March 1, with the other elimination games following on Friday, all leading up to the grand finale Saturday, in which the best teams play off for the championship.

The list of competing teams will be much the same as that of previous years, with the exception that Frederic may enter in the class "D" elimination.

For the benefit of those who missed last year's big sports event, a list of the competitors is given below:

Class "C"—Mio, Mancelona, West Branch, Lake City, Grayling, Gaylord.

Class "D"—McBain, Roscommon, Johannesburg, Houghton Lake, St. Joseph, St. Mary's, Frederic (?)

It is impossible to prophesy the outcome of this big skirmish. Those "in the know" have doped out Mancelona and Lake City as the big rivals in the Class "C" group, but this is very uncertain as no one seems to know much about either the Mio or Gaylord team. Also, if Grayling happens to be having a good day she may surprise them all. The Grayling boys have played several games of championship caliber, but they can't always be depended upon. West Branch is not supposed to have a very good team, but rumors are afloat to the effect that she has been "holding out" on us, and she may really do something spectacular.

The Class "D" meet is equally impossible to predict. There are several good teams on the list, and anything is possible, with Roscommon and St. Mary's the possible favorites.

On the whole, this promises to be a tournament "par excellence" and no one can pick a winner until the last game is played. No one can afford to miss this, the biggest event of the year. Two referees have been sent by the State Department—Nichols of Barryton and McMillan, of Petoskey and an efficient job is assured.

Interest in this meet is at a fever point all over town, and predictions and gossip run riot, but no one knows anything at all about the probable outcome and the only way to find out without a tedious and unbearable wait is to go to the games. Nothing short of fire or flood can keep any sports follower in the vicinity at home on these three big days.

West Branch Quintettes Here Friday

Friday night the Green and White of G. H. S. will take on the Orange and Black of West Branch.

A few weeks ago the two teams met at West Branch, with Grayling winning by a 14-10 score. The second team also won with a 24 point margin, shutting out their opposition.

Since this game both teams have put in a lot of practice and are "rarin' to go," West Branch with revenge in her heart and Grayling with determination in hers. Although Grayling has lost two men, Bud Sorenson and "Smitty" Smith, she still hopes to win. It's going to be a big game so come up and see it at the school gym Friday night. Elmer Smith of Houghton Lake will officiate.

JUNIORS TO PRESENT PLAY

The Juniors have started work on the production of their play, "Drums of Death." The play is a very stirring mystery—guaranteed to keep the audience on the edge of their seats for a full evening.

Practices are starting under the capable direction of Miss Berry.

The cast will be selected from the following Juniors:

Eva Mae Bugby, George Lietz, Kenneth Hoelsi, Sam Gust, Marie Buck, Josephine Robarge.

DeAlton Griffith, Beverly Schabbe, Clara Atkinson, Elizabeth Kraus, Eva Madsen, Jean Peterson.

Grayling Pioneers Tie With Luzerne

Last Sunday, at Luzerne, Grayling Pioneers played the most exciting game of hockey of the season so far, when they played a two to two tie against CCC Co. 661, Luzerne.

The first period, which was very fast, went scoreless. In the second period Grayling repeatedly charged down the ice and finally Frank Shupinsky, center for Grayling, made a beautiful shot into the wicket for the first score of the game.

In the third period Grayling changed their tactics and played defensive hockey, and were holding No. 661 down. What looked like a 1 to 0 victory for the home team was changed one minute before the end of the third period. With a man completely offside a goal was made by Pilarski of Luzerne.

The game was held up for five minutes while the home team captain, Gil Cameron and Frank Ogden, manager, argued with the referee about the disqualification of the goal. It was useless to argue with the referee of course and the game was carried into overtime.

Three minutes after the overtime period started "Whitey" Durkoth came through for Grayling with an extraordinary backhand shot. No. 661 put on one last desperate charge two minutes before the end of the game, Hurlbush rushing in on our goal and outwitting Cameron to again tie the score.

After that day's performance we are sure the Pioneers are back in shape again.

Arrangements are being made on Saturday and one on Sunday at the Grayling Winter Sports Park. The following week-end no games are scheduled as the players are making a trip to Detroit for the week end. They will then return and finish the season with what will probably be tough competition.

Ned Schmelzer was not in last Sunday's line-up due to the fact he had to return to Lincoln Park for a few days. Frank Shupinsky played in his position and Theo. Ruthven, sub, was put in the game.

We hope this week end to see a large attendance at the Winter Sports Park to see the hockey games.

Line-up:
Grayling Pioneers—Frahm; Durkoth 1 goal; Shupinsky 1 goal; Helson; Utick; Ruthven; Barber; Cetnar; Matt; Pruneau. Cameron, goalie.

CCC Co. 661, Luzerne—Kennedy; Pilarski 1 goal; Hurlbush 1 goal; Kinsel; Connors; Baginski. Borseneau, goalie.

Camp Higgins Defeat Cadillac

The Higgins Lake basketball team, frigid weather notwithstanding, took a long jaunt over to Cadillac Friday, Feb. 9th, and as usual, brought home a well earned victory over Co. 682 by the score of 28-18. Harrison and Bates were the high point men for Co. 673 while Taylor was the loser's best bet.

Here is the standings of the teams of this district, including Feb. 9th's game. Scores furnished by our District chaplain, Capt. Todd:

	Won	Lost
Higgins	7	0
Cadillac	5	2
Harrison	4	2
Hartwick Pines	3	3
Pioneer	3	3
AuSable	1	4
Fife Lake	1	4
Houghton	0	6

DISHONORABLE DISCHARGE— THEN WHAT?

Mustered out with "dishonorable discharge" written in the discharge papers. That's what some of the members of CCC camps have been getting.

What are the penalties that follow a fellow who is so unfortunate as to leave behind a dishonorable discharge record?

The U. S. government has a record of every fellow in these camps, and it will be next to impossible for one who has been discharged with dishonor to pass a civil service examination. His record bars him from service with the government. That in itself is a penalty of no small proportion. His fellow camp companions know of his disgrace and in a brief time the people at home learn why he returned, and he must face the world with a feeling and knowledge that he has been a failure and by his acts has brought dishonor to himself and his family.

Perhaps he gets a job. After a while his employer hears that he was dishonorably discharged from the Civilian Conservation Corps and the chances are great that he will soon lose that job. His dishonorable record follows him to his grave. One can hardly shake it off. Years may lapse and the matter may appear to be forgotten. Then some day, just when one may least desire it, that black mark against his name is again dragged before the public.

There have been a few instances among some of the camps around Grayling where young men have been discharged from camp because of dishonor. Drunkenness seems to be the prevailing reason for the downfall of some of these young men. Who is to blame? The young man himself, of course, for he should know better.

However we have been wondering if the people living in the region of these CCC camps fully realize the responsibilities that they owe these young men. Are we giving them the protection that we would want others to afford a son of ours if he were in such a camp? Are we offering them warm friendliness and making them feel that they have a part in our community and that they are welcome in our churches, and public places? Do we give them a friendly hello whenever we meet them or do we show indifference? Or do we leave that for the bootlegger who has rotten liquor for sale—generally rank poison? And do we, as respectable citizens, sit idly by and knowingly permit bootleggers to dope these youngsters with their moonshine without protest? Some are selling bootleg liquor right here in Grayling and getting away with it unmolested. And the sale doesn't stop with the CCC boys, but many of our young Grayling boys too are victims of the bootlegger. And men with families too buy that filthy booze.

Now isn't it about time that decent people of Crawford county rise up in protest? We owe a duty to our own young men and the boys in the CCC camps, by giving them our moral backing and demanding that these illegal booze dumps be put out of business. This county has no liquor store where good liquor may be obtained still that is no good reason why we should tolerate the sale of poison moonshine to our young people.

And it's time that our courts take some drastic action against bootleggers. The fact that prohibition is repealed and that thousands of prohibition offenders have been released from prisons and convictions are taken lightly is no good reason, we believe, for not seeking the low-lived cowards who now prey upon the paltry salaries of the CCC boys and those employed in CWA projects. Just as long as the courts of the land treat these offenses lightly so will the enforcing officers do so.

We believe the officers will do their duty in this matter if they know the people and the courts are back of them. Let's all do some real bearing down on these illegal booze joints. And you mothers too should take a hand. The victims are not only our young men but there are many young girls too who need our protection. We all owe them a responsibility. Let's come to life and do something. Unless we do, then we must partly bear the blame for many dishonorable discharges.

What Other Editors Have To Say

I read that the late disorders in France were occasioned by the taxes that the French people have to pay. That reminds me that I have had several arguments of late with friends on the subject of the state sales tax as a permanent source of taxation. I maintain that it is loaded with dynamite that surely will explode some day. All history teaches us that when the bread of the poor is taxed trouble follows. When a condition is brought about whereby the lowliest citizen of this state pays as much tax on his food as Henry Ford does, its time to sit up and take notice of what is going on. This is said in no way to cast reflection upon Mr. Ford—he's not to blame. These "penny taxes" are so easy to collect that they are a tempting source to the tax hungry legislator. As an emergency measure the sales tax should be put up with while the emergency lasts but as a permanent thing it should be fought to the limit.—Crystal Falls Diamond Drill.

Postmaster General Farley has issued a letter giving the reasons for the wholesale cancellation of these contracts. He claims that the government has been mulcted of 47 million dollars by collusion, and his letter is interpreted as implicating every air mail carrying firm in the country. Mr. Farley's statement must be taken at its face value until some who is in the business comes forth to refute it if they can. As in every controversy of the kind, one must need both sides before passing judgment if fairness is to be the watchword. There seems to have been little question from the first break of this air mail matter that someone gouged. It is to be hoped that the inquiry will go so far as to show up every one of the gougers and bring them to punishment. My thought in the matter is much the same as Will Rogers when he says he would like to sit on the jury that tries them so as to send them to jail. However, many innocent people are going to suffer all over the country and who wouldn't for a moment entertain any skulduggery. They are the investors who bought these stocks—many of them women, widows, school teachers and others who sought to invest their few savings in such a way that they might have an income in their old age. I own none of the stocks, never did, and have no personal interest. My only interest is that the crooks may be weeded out and the honest people allowed to profit by their investments.—Crystal Falls Diamond Drill.

CIGARETTES AND CO-EDS

Three weeks ago at Ann Arbor the annual meeting of the University Press Club of Michigan was held. Editors from every section of the state were in attendance, as were some of the students at certain sessions. Speaking on the subject of girls smoking cigarettes, J. John Pope, editor of the Grandville Star, had this to say about some of the co-eds who were present when Donald Richberg, NRA general counsel, spoke. Publisheth Mr. Pope: "In the second row were three cigarette smoking co-eds—who some day expected to be 'assigned' to a newspaper. Their display of indifference on what the meeting was all about or the thought that they were in the presence of gentlemen—and ladies, their rather flippant attitude and behavior would at once discourage any publisher from offering them a situation on his editorial staff. Opposite these girls was another type. A young lady of about the same age. Keen-eyed, calm, sensible she stood up and plied a question to Mr. Richberg which almost stunned him for a correct answer. This is the type of girl any publisher would gladly employ—the other never."—Birmingham Eccentric.

IS AUSTRIA again to be the starting point of a great European war? That was the question that was worrying the nations of the world as the civil warfare between the Austrian government and the Socialists proceeded. On the side lines, watching events closely and biding their time, were Nazi Germany, Fascist Italy, France just recovering from its own internal row, and the rather frightened members of the little entente. Great Britain, determined that Germany and Austria shall not be united, was warning Hitler to keep his hands off Soviet Russia would like to put a finger in the pie but is fully occupied with the threat of war with Japan.

Vice Chancellor Emil Fey and Prince Ernst von Starhemberg of Austria were determined that the Socialists should be driven out or exterminated and the country made wholly Fascist, and Chancellor Dollfuss was going along with them. The revolt of the Socialists was evidently carefully planned and the rebels were well armed and capably led. But at this writing they had won no victory of moment and their strongholds in Vienna, mainly the huge communist apartment buildings, had been smashed by the government artillery. In Linz, Graz, Steyr and other centers the results were the same. After several days of fighting, in which two or three thousand persons were killed and many more wounded, Dollfuss gave the Socialists five hours in which to lay down their arms on promise of pardon except for the chief leaders. This brought insufficient response, and the government troops went into action again in the suburbs to which the rebels had been driven. The latter met the attack stoutly, especially in the section just across the great Reichsbrücke where they were occupying big buildings and trenches. Major Fey was in charge of the operations in and about Vienna, and Prince von Starhemberg was in command at Linz and Steyr.

Though the German government was not openly mixed in the mess, the official Nazi newspapers were egging on the Austrian Socialists. Hitler and his comrades claim that a majority of the Austrian voters are Nazis and prophecy that the time is near when Dollfuss will fall and the Austrian Nazis will be in control. The whole tone of comment in the German press expressed sympathy with the "misled" workers of Austria, and the League of Nations and its members were warned not to interfere in the struggle.

Reports originating in Paris said 75,000 Italian troops had been massed at strategic points along the Austrian frontier and that they and the Fascist frontier guard were ready for any eventuality. The Italian government officials said this troop movement had been going on for some time and was only part of a fundamental change in Italian military policy.

London correspondents dug up a story, from an Austrian source, to the effect that the Austrian Socialists obtained the arms with which they had been fighting from Czechoslovakia, either from the Czech government direct or with its connivance. A railroad from Prague to the south runs through a part of Austria, and the story goes that trains loaded with arms and ammunition consigned to some place in Czechoslovakia were emptied of their cargoes somewhere between Gemundt and Pressburg.

It is also alleged that arms have been shipped up the Danube from Pressburg to Vienna or nearby points and smuggled ashore. Czechoslovakia doesn't at all like the idea of being surrounded by Fascist countries and has been encouraging democratic movements against both the German and Austrian dictatorships. Prague is full of refugee Socialists.

TEN days in jail was the sentence pronounced by the senate on William P. MacCracken for having tampered with correspondence in his files after the files had been subpoenaed by the special committee investigating air-mail contracts.

The same punishment was awarded L. H. Brittin, vice president of Northwest Airways. Two other defendants were acquitted. MacCracken already had been fined $100 by the District Supreme court for misrepresentation in obtaining a writ of habeas corpus before actually being arrested. He was given time by the senate to perfect an appeal from its verdict.

The army went ahead rapidly in its preparations for carrying the air mails after the cancellation of contracts by Postmaster General Farley. Headquarters for this service were opened in Washington and put under the command of Brig. Gen. Oscar Westover by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, chief of staff.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's telegram to the President protesting against the summary cancellation of contracts led Postmaster General Farley to make public his report to

Tune in on the Terraplane and Hudson Program every Saturday,

Chairman Black's Investigating committee justifying his action. In this Farley made sensational charges that the government had been defrauded to the extent of $46,800,000 in the letting and operation of air-mail contracts. He asserted that his predecessor, Walter F. Brown, had joined in and directed a conspiracy by which competition was smothered and all contracts were awarded by secret agreement to certain favored air lines.

SECRETARIES ICKES, WALTER E. Dorn and Perkins were named by the President as a committee to draw up definite plans for his permanent public works program. This is intended to effect great economic and social changes and will cost probably more than half a billion dollars yearly. Mr. Roosevelt and his advisers take it for granted that even after business has achieved recovery there will be from three to five million persons still unemployed and that they must be cared for by something like the Civil Works administration.

This new project as now conceived includes these major undertakings: Methodical development of waterways, water power, flood control, soil erosion preventives, reforestation, and other public works. On these works employment would be furnished in the manner of the present CCC and CWA.

Decentralization of industry through establishment of small industries in rural regions to enable people to make a living partly by farming and partly by factory employment. A start in this direction is now being made in the subsistence homesteads, for which twenty-five millions of recovery funds have been allocated.

Government purchase of submarginal lands unfit for cultivation, which would be added to the public domain and devoted to forest development. For this purpose twenty-five millions already have been allotted.

THE Civil Works administration obtained from congress an appropriation of $50,000,000 for its immediate uses and its workers, numbering 8,900,000 persons, received their pay. But at the same time Administrator Harry Hopkins began the task of putting down the forces, ordering reduction of from 10 to 20 percent. He directed that work cease on all federal civil projects not on federal or other public property. By Hopkins' plan of cutting down the total number of employees about 10 per cent a week, the CWA army will be virtually out of existence by May 1.

The largest force affected by the nonpublic property order is in the public health service. Hopkins ordered it to stop malaria control efforts employing 20,775 men, rural sanitation using 22,010 and the sealing of miles by 6,571 workers to prevent water acidity in the Ohio valley.

COOKS WILL WELCOME NEW POTATO VARIETY

East Lansing, Feb. 19.—Potatoes which make the housewife's eyes glisten and which make the growers good tempered when they survey the yields appear to be assured by the recommendation of the farm crops department at Michigan State College that Michigan farmers give Kathadin potatoes a trial.

This variety was developed by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture in 1923 and it has been thoroughly tested in this state under the supervision of the College. Field trials have been run in all potato growing sections.

Kathadin potatoes are excellent table stock. They are good bakers and can be attractively served in any way that potatoes are cooked. The tubers are white, are nearly round, and have shallow eyes. They yield about the same as Russet Rurals and have produced a greater percentage of No. 1 grade than the Russets. Kathadins are resistant to mild mosaic and seem to be affected by scab about the same as Green Mountains or White Rurals.

This variety does especially well on the lighter potato soils. The tubers grow quite near the surface so the seed should be planted deeply. Some soil should be thrown toward the rows during the last cultivation.

Seed of this variety is available in the State. This seed stock has been carefully supervised and has been examined for quality and freedom from disease. Information concerning seed sources can be obtained by writing to the farm crops department at the College for names of farmers who still have seed.

Newspaper story tells about an automobile mechanic who overhauls cars while blindfolded, and we sort of somehow had a notion all along that that was the way it was done.—Macon Telegraph.

TRANSFER OF FISH ILLEGAL

Transfer of fish from one lake or stream to another, releasing unused bait into public waters or unauthorized planting of any species of fish in any waters under the jurisdiction of the state is now illegal in Michigan, the Conservation is warning.

The last session of the state legislature included in its general fishing laws a provision that no fish might be placed in any waters without a specific permit from the Conservation Department except when furnished by the state or federal government. So far, it was reported, no permits have been applied for.

The law was adopted to prevent introduction and spread of undesirable species. Unthinkingly, persons having a surplus of live bait which often includes noxious or undesirable species, dump them when they are through fishing. In the past goldfish, carp, dogfish and other so-called noxious fish have been placed in waters where they were not previously observed, it was said, to the detriment of game fish.

The law likewise will prohibit the transfer of any species of fish from one water for introduction in another such as smelt taken in spawning runs. Persons enthusiastic over a certain species often like to bring them closer home and subsequently attempt their introduction without knowledge of the limiting factors favoring the establishment or their effect on other species already present.

We shall have real prosperity when the men and women of the country are holding normal jobs, working for private business, and not receiving checks which must be paid eventually by excessive taxation.—Estherville, Ia., Daily News.

Wilhelm Raue returned to Grayling last Saturday from Portland, Oregon where he had been since last summer in the interest of a lumber company. He said that the first snow he saw was when he got to West Branch. Well, he missed a lot, and is probably glad of it. His friends are glad to welcome him back.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Poor and Coach Cornell accompanied by Tom Welsh, George Hanson, Leo Lovely, Clyde Borchers, Don Gother, Jerome Brady, Edwin Chalk, Bill Joseph, Emil Kraus and Lilwyn Doremire motored to Alma Wednesday to witness a basketball game between Alma and Olivet. Alma won the game.

Mrs. Ernest Larson and Mrs. Milo Endricks were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Larson, for the pleasure of Miss Dorothy May who is to be a bride of next month. Hearts were played, Miss Glarice Welch winning first prize and Mrs. Edwin Carlson second. A delicious lunch was served. Miss May received many lovely gifts.

Complete surprises are rare, but Jimmy Weiss was the victim of one Sunday evening. It was his sixteenth birthday and ten of his friends walked in on him at the dinner hour. A lovely dinner at 6:00 o'clock was enjoyed and then the party enjoyed a theatre party at the Rialto. A lighted birthday cake graced the dinner table.

Three robberies were committed in Grayling Saturday night. A pair of ladies slippers, some groceries and a robe were taken from Clyde Peterson's car that was parked in front of Lovely's Restaurant. Six pounds of butter were taken from Walter Johnson's car, and a swing-back framed picture of Winter Sports Queen Lulu Malonen was taken from the showcase outside of the Trudeau Studio. Several carnival postcard views were also taken and the lock which had been broken. As yet Sheriff Bennett has no clue to the robberies.

Francis Brady is spending a few days in Detroit.

Admission was twenty-five cents per person and the proceeds went to the Eastern Stars. A. J. Nelson and Mrs. Hans Petersen won first prizes while Tony Green and Mrs. Jess Sales won the consolations.

A fine flowing well was struck at Grayling fish hatchery Wednesday. It is 90 feet deep, and requires some further developing. Just what use will be made of it is not yet determined, and depends much upon the wishes of the Conservation department. It is located near the garage and on the edge of the deer park and will at least provide a fine watering place for the animals in the park.

Amos Hunter of Grayling Dairy reports that State Inspector Janowski suddenly appeared at his plant on Feb. 16 and gave them a very rigid inspection. When the points were all totaled, a score of 18 out of 20 possible points was allowed them. Amos says the inspector's final remarks on the score sheet were: "This is a very good place. Keep the good work up."

Sheriff Bennett was kept pretty busy a few times last week by brawls occurring in South Branch township. Four men were arrested for assault and battery and each paid fines of $10.00. They were Andrew Jorgenson, Clayton Bishop, Forest Hodges and Robert Wingor-Ray Skinner was the victim. These men were woodmen. A few days later Robert Clark was arrested and sentenced to 30 days in jail for assault and battery, and William Bestwright was sentenced to 30 days in jail for obtaining money under false pretenses.

Today is Washington's Birthday.

Anthony Green visited friends in Frankfort Sunday.

Mrs. George Burke was hostess to several ladies at her home Monday afternoon. The occasion was her birthday.

Mrs. Walker Munroe, of Detroit, arrived Wednesday morning to spend a few days with her sister, Mrs. Oscar Hanson.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Chappel are happy over the arrival of a son born to them February 11th. He will be known as Stanley Wallace.

20% off on all men's articles, zippers, lace boots and heavy socks at Olsons.

The regular meeting of the Ladies Aid society will be a pot-luck dinner at 12 o'clock noon Friday, March 2 in the church kitchen.

A fire at the home of Charles Waldron Monday noon caused little damage. A hole was burned in the roof, caused from a spark from the chimney.

Men, Attention!!! A pot-luck dinner will served in the Michelson Memorial church kitchen Friday, March 2 at 12 o'clock sharp. Come and enjoy a delicious meal and pay whatever you wish.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Trudeau and Mr. and Mrs. Menno Corwin were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Slaven Wednesday evening at dinner at the H. B. Smith cabin down the river.

The Danish church, which was damaged by fire several weeks ago, will be ready for use next Sunday. The floor and wood-work have been repaired but the redecorating is to be postponed until the local painters have finished their O.W.A. work at the school house.

Grayling Lumberjacks and the Corkscrews have entered the independent basket ball tournament that opens tonight in Roscommon and ends Saturday night. A string of other teams have made entry and indications are that the third annual Gold Medal tournament will go over with a bang.

Nell Carey Welsh was hostess to eight of her young friends at a dinner party at her home Wednesday evening. The occasion was her eighth birthday. The little guests included Jane Milnes, Betty Sparkes, Shirley Nelson, Roger Giegling, Robert Bennett, Sandy Thompson and Louis Kraus.

DRIVING ON THE RIGHT SIDE OF THE HIGHWAY

Section 11, Act No. 318, P. A. 1927, reads as follows:

"Upon all highways of sufficient width except upon one way streets, the driver of a vehicle shall drive the same upon the right half of the highway and shall drive a slow moving vehicle as closely as possible to the right hand edge or curb of such highway, unless it is impracticable to travel on such side of the highway and except when overtaking and passing another vehicle subject to the limitations applicable in overtaking and passing, set forth in sections thirteen and fourteen of this act."

If there is any condition on the highway that will cause the ordinary man to lose his sunny disposition, it is to operate his car at a normal speed upon a three or four lane traffic highway and then come upon a truck, or passenger vehicle being driven by an operator who is out sight-seeing, operating in the center of the highway at a speed of anywhere from twelve to twenty miles an hour. This kind of a driver is a nuisance and should either be educated or arrested.

Too little attention is being paid to the hundreds of thousands of signs marking our super-highways, which read "DRIVE TO THE RIGHT. CENTER FOR PASSING ONLY." It is estimated that this type of highway will carry at least one-third more traffic safely, if drivers would adhere to this rule.

BEWARE OF BAD WHISKEY

The liquor problem is still with us, but the question is not whether we may drink, but what kind of liquor is safe. M. J. MacNamara, president of the Penn-Maryland company, an affiliate of National Distillers Products Corporation, furnishes an expert opinion upon the subject of blended wet good.

In commenting upon the recent statement of United States Secretary of the Treasury, Henry Morgenthau, Jr., and spokesman in the Bureau of Industrial Alcohol. The officials declared that a number of whiskey blends "unfit to drink" are now on the market, as a warning against the perils that may lurk in improperly blended liquors.

"But skillfully, carefully blended whiskey," Mr. MacNamara said, "is a far cry from the cut stuff foisted on the public by bootleggers during the last few years." Whiskey blending, as practiced before Prohibition, was a fine art and an exact science, he declared, from which rare and almost priceless formulae were developed. These purified spirits are given his ok, but he warns against raw or "young" whiskey or unpurified alcohol in blending. Mr. MacNamara explained that "this policy has been endorsed by Dr. Gettler, Toxicologist of the City of New York, Dr. Harrison B. Martland of the Newark City Hospital, Medical Examiner of Essex County, New Jersey, Dr. Timothy Leary, Medical Examiner for Suffolk County, Massachusetts, including the City of Boston, and other scientific authorities. These authorities have stated that blends of matured whiskey with 'young whiskey' or with unpurified alcohol are poisonous and health-wrecking and that blends of mature whiskey with purified spirits or alcohol are non-poisonous and relatively non-injurious."

Our Puck Pushers

(By F. R. O. and C. E. R.)

Hello Everybody:

It is about time for me to start the old talking machine again. We're off!!!

Wm. Frahm, wingman, rushed up to the barber for a haircut. The barber told him not to be in such a hurry as he wasn't going anywhere. But, if I can judge him right, well, he won't be keeping that little blond lady waiting long.

Theo. Ruthven who was taken off the regular line-up will be put back in for the next game.

Frank Ogden was almost killed this morning. It seems he is always wanting to practice on the trumpet. Enough is enough, but too much is—(curtains for Frank).

Yes, Suh!! What with the trumpet arriving in camp a couple of weeks ago and a saxophone last week, there is no peace in camp any more.

You should have seen last week's game. Every player on each team was taking a crack at each other, or knocking each other down, then apologizing. All that was missing was the tears and bows.

If Otis Matt ever asks "Do you know where I'm headin' for?" don't answer him because he will say, "I'm headin' for the last roundup."

Edmond Pruneau wants to know if defenseman George Barber's last name is Zitch.

All the players went to the Rialto Theatre to see "Flying Down to Rio". Now they want to go to South America to learn the new dances, the Clobos. If Manager George Olson doesn't stop getting that type of picture the Grayling Pioneer hockey team won't be no more.

Oh!! For goodness sake, here I am writing a book. I better sign off until next week. Eh, what!!

Absynissia,
The Pen Pushing Twins.

CAMP HIGGINS WINS NINTH STRAIGHT GAME

Camp Higgins continued its long string of basketball victories with another triumph over the Hartwick Pines boys Tuesday night.

The two teams were deadlocked at four points each at the half. With Harrison in the line-up in the second half Camp Higgins finished strong to come out on top by the score of 26-17.

Bates also played a smart floor game for the winners while Cim-cock was Hartwick Pines' star.

This was Higgins' ninth straight victory.

Blessing of Animals at Los Angeles

The old Spanish custom in which every year animals are brought to church for blessing is held at Los Angeles with impressive ceremony. This photograph shows Rev. Father Victor Marin bestowing the blessing of the Catholic church on "Blackie," the last of the Los Angeles fire horses.

G. H. S. Loses At Roscommon

Roscommon's rangy scrappy basketball team edged out a 24-25 verdict over Grayling last Friday night in a game that wasn't decided until the last possible tick of the stop-watch. The Grayling reserves got a 6-11 decision to give Grayling a more or less even break for the evening.

It was quite a thriller. Grayling held an edge 7-3 at the quarter, and still was out in front 13-11 at the half. The third quarter left an 18-18 deadlock. "The Commons" pulled through to victory in the final period.

The Reserve game was a close affair too with a 6-6 deadlock at half time.

The Roscommon outfit presented a scrappy aggregation that used their height to advantage. They provided a most interesting evening to say the least.

Watson of Kalkaska referred the fracas in a totally acceptable style.

This week Grayling entertains the West Branch teams here in the last home game before the tournament. The locals face tough sledding with Sorenson in-eligible and Smith deciding that after all basketball doesn't appeal to him.

WINDSTORM CO. REPORT SHOWS FINE CONDITION

Forty-eight Years of Steady Growth and Prompt, Satisfactory Service

The Michigan Mutual Windstorm Insurance Company of Hastings is the oldest and largest company of its kind operating in Michigan. Its history over the period of 48 years, since its organization in 1885, has been one of continuous growth and successful operation. Over four million dollars have been paid during this period to Michigan property owners for losses sustained by severe windstorms.

L. W. Sunday, president; Guy E. Crook, vice-president; E. A. Parker, secretary treasurer; and twelve directors located in as many different sections of the state constitute the governing body of this great company. There are also about nine hundred agents scattered over Michigan looking after the writing of new business.

The annual report shows the company to be in splendid financial position, with over three hundred fifty million dollars insurance at risk and a membership of 94,761.

The fairness of this company's adjustment and the promptness with which it settles its claims has won high praise and appreciation from its patrons.

Past experience has demonstrated that devastating windstorms in Michigan are almost sure occurrences every year. This company has paid losses of considerable amount every year since 1893.

This is a company of which the people of Michigan should feel justly proud because of its fine record of continuous and satisfactory service, rebuilding thousands of buildings throughout the state that could not have been replaced had the owners been uninsured.—Hastings Banner, Feb. 21, 1934.

Wonder what those French royalists who rioted because one bank was wrecked would have done had they lived in the United States during the past four or five years?

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

The 12th of February, 1934 has slipped away into history, like the 12th of February 1809. The earlier date will be longer remembered because on it Abraham Lincoln was born. It is not necessary to re-write his biography or re-tell his achievements. The major events of his life are related to a calamitous and distressing time. On the 125th anniversary of his birth, let him be remembered simply as one who bore with patience the hardships and heartaches of a wearying day. Viewed in that light, he typifies the spirit of the South quite as well as the spirit of the North, during the Civil War period, and belongs indeed to the ages.

A trans-continental railroad has invested two hundred thousand dollars in a train which will make the ride between Chicago and the Pacific coast twenty-four hours shorter. Anyone who has jogged at the customary leisurely rate over the route mentioned is convinced that the journey was unnecessarily prolonged. The railroad, like most individuals, has found out, during the present hard times, that it can do things that it considered impossible before. But should one harp on hard times, in view of the large expenditure involved? Finally, things must be improving if there is a demand for so speedy a service. The incident, though small in itself, starts one thinking along several serious lines.

A prominent ecclesiastic characterized Gandhi as the prophet of a new era. With France and Austria upset, Germany and Italy engaged in new and large-scale experiments, and the United States passing through what a less phlegmatic nation would call a revolution, it seems as though a new era indeed were at hand. What is in store for the civilized world, no one knows. Each day's newspaper leaves the reader in the suspense of the serial story. Something is happening in a big way, but what is it?

About 50 attended the funeral of a nationally-known alleged kidnapper, following his suicide in a mid-western prison. Considered as social gatherings, funerals are not so popular as they used to be. Sometimes it is hard to drum up a half-hundred for the burying of a prominent citizen, especially if his activities happen to be a few years in the past. If the jail-bird knows what went on, he should feel that he was accorded a pretty good send-off.

According to statistics furnished by the Treasury Department, the national debt will amount to about 32 billion dollars by the first of July, 1934, the nearest approach to this indebtedness being the sum of 25 billion dollars, which we owed in 1919. Between 1917 and 1919, the national debt increased ten fold, but we got along somehow, and will get along somehow now, even with a 7 billion increase over what was the pinnacle debt up to the present year. Nothing that the public debt doubled from 1929 to 1934, whereas it increased its bulk ten times from 1917 to 1919, it seems that a foreign war is a far more serious thing than industrial troubles at home, so far as putting Uncle Sam on the borrowing list is concerned.

Protests of Col. Lindbergh's protest regarding the cancellation of the air mail contracts, it is to be wondered whether or not he is in for the bump that in all times and under all administrations has come to those who sass the White House, popular idols not excluded.

REVALUATION OF THE DOLLAR

Fixing of the gold content of the dollar at fifty-nine cents is America's latest mystery move, but author Roosevelt has shown that he has a way about him of making "it all come out right in the end." But there are real thrills in the novel drama entitled "re-valuation of the dollar."

The human problem among the masses remains the same: how to get the dollar. With that accomplished, the chances are that there never will be any difficulty in getting 100 per cent value for any class of money that bears the approval of the U. S. Government.

The new deal in money, established the gold bullion standard, as the United States Treasury sees it and as Mr. Roosevelt has promised, with gold circulating among central banks if and when foreign banks are willing to abide by our set price.

The man in the street will notice no difference in his dollar at the moment, but he may note differences in the prices of things he purchases.

FORD TO BUILD HUGE EXPOSITION AT THE 1934 CHICAGO WORLD'S FAIR

A GREAT Ford Exposition, portraying the tremendous part the arts, sciences and virtually every other industry plays in the manufacture of today's motor cars, is planned by the Ford Motor Company for the 1934 World's Fair.

The Ford Exposition will be housed in a giant building 860 feet long to be built in the heart of the fair grounds on an 11-acre plot bordering Lake Michigan and flanking the main fair boulevard. Construction of the building will start Mar. 1.

In the dominant central building will be housed Henry Ford's "Drama of Transportation," depicting the development of wheeled vehicles from the chariots of ancient Egyptian kings to modern motor cars. Every model of Ford car made since 1903 will be included.

In the smaller building to the left will be housed some of the priceless historic exhibits from the Edison Institute at Dearborn, Mich., including the one-story brick workshop, complete with the original tools, where Mr. Ford in 1893 built with his own hands his first motor car. This first car will be displayed inside the shop.

The main exposition building will

Henry Ford and Edsel B. Ford show to Rufus C. Dawes (center), president of the World's Fair, the scale model of the giant Ford Exposition building to be built at the 1934 Fair. (Lower) The Ford building as it will be seen from Leif Erikson drive. Opposite the building will be a huge park bordering Lake Michigan.

display an imposing array of exhibits, most of them in action, show how steel, aluminum and flanking metals, soy beans, corn, wool, cotton and other farm products and the products of myriad industries are converted into car parts. The building also will house displays of cars and a big movie theater. Along the east side will be an open-air balcony equipped with chairs and lounges where hundreds may relax. Across the drive fronting the lake will be a big Ford Park, beautifully landscaped and also fitted with seats and other comforts for fair crowds.

DEPT. OF STATE STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Drunk driving increased 45 per cent during January, 1934 as compared with January, 1933, according to records of the Department of State. The information reaches the department through the financial responsibility and the motor vehicles operators' license laws.

In January of this year there were 168 persons who either pleaded guilty or were found guilty of drunk driving or 52 more than in January of the year previous.

Since the financial responsibility law became effective last Oct. 17, a total of 659 motorists have been found guilty of some major traffic violation and have come under the provisions of the act. Of this number but 49 have been able to show proper proof of financial responsibility as demanded by the law.

Sale of windshield sticker permits under the two-payment plan allowing legal use of 1933 plates until August 1, 1934 will start Feb. 23, according to announcement by Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald.

Under this plan, motorists, upon payment of one-half of the weight tax will receive a permit which must be fastened on the lower right hand corner of the windshield. With this sticker in place, the 1933 license plates can be used. In event that the legislature reduces the annual weight tax in the next few months, proper adjustment will be made when the second half of the weight tax is paid, if authorized by the legislature, Mr. Fitzgerald announced.

HAD YOU LIVED several thousands of years ago you would have seen real "thunder lizards" like this model which is being made by Fred W. Temple of Los Angeles, Calif. In real life these lizards were about 40 feet high and 100 feet long.

THIS OLD LOG CABIN, though small and crudely built, is significant in American history, for it is the cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born near Hodgenville, Kentucky.

A "ONE-ARMED PAPER HANGER" might be busy, but you can get that Chet Mallory, the one-armed carpenter of Dell Rapids, S. Dak., was even busier when he built this attractive six-room bungalow all by himself. It took him two years to complete the job.

The front tires on the new knee-action CHEVROLET are as easy to change as on previous models.

CHEVROLET knee-action construction prevents excessive change in tread or "tire scrubbing."

CHEVROLET uses mechanical brakes because they are more dependable and offer greatest safety of any type of braking system.

The 1934 CHEVROLET SEDAN weighs 3190 lbs. The heaviest car in its price class.

The 1934 bodies are 4 inches longer.
